Scholarship Commitment Letter

Memorial Youth Flight Training Scholarship

This document describes the responsibilities committed to by Cascade Warbirds and the recipient and parent/guardian, if applicable, ("recipient") of the Cascade Warbirds Memorial Youth Flight Training Scholarship. Sign and return this to accept the scholarship.

Please ensure you are aware of the commitment flight training requires in terms of time, dedication, and money. Consistency and frequency of training, ideally more than once per week, will accelerate progress and reduce cost. You will need to choose a flight school partnered with Cascade Warbirds—research the options listed on our website. Proximity is as important to regular training as a good personality match with your flight instructor (CFI).

Recommendations

Use your Cascade Warbirds pilot mentor! These are experienced pilots with backgrounds ranging from private to airline to military, propeller to jet, local to global. They will happily talk about opportunities in aviation and assist with training questions (use your instructors for official guidance). If you are under age 18, your parent or legal guardian should set guidelines for how you and your mentor communicate.

If unforeseen circumstances arise that affect your ability to progress in your training, please contact your Cascade Warbirds mentor. We want you to succeed and our scholarship committee will work with you to find a path forward.

Best of luck and happiness in your future as a pilot!
